"SUFFER THE LITTLE CHILDREN . . ." — A few of the hundreds of children of the veterans who live at the Coyote Point Housing Project. These are the real victims of a situation which is forcing them to grow up amid crowded, shabby conditions, with not even a playground or a sandbox for recreation, say their parents. With time on their hands and no place to play, the children amuse themselves as best they can. "I think mostly in terms of the children said one woman resident. "All they know is to fight and throw rocks . . . if this isn't contributing to their delinquency, I don't know what is . . ." The photograph was made between two of the barracks-type apartment buildings on the "white" side of the project. Set Record RC Community Chest Budget, Campaign Program Mapped by Chmn. Cole

Directors of the Redwood City Community Chest this week adopted a record budget of $40,500, up $4800 from last year. Keith Cole, campaign chairman, accepted the total with confidence.

"I think we can make it this year," he declared, and disclosed organization plans with a number of departures from previous years.

This year, he announced, parents of children benefitting directly from work of the Community Chest agencies, will be asked to make substantial contributions to the fund, both in money and volunteer help.

Instead of relying upon various civic and fraternal groups to make the residential district solicitation, a new Community Chest campaign corps will be organized.

Some 50 districts will be organized under direct charge of the principal Community Chest agencies. Each block will have a Community Chest captain, responsible to a campaign colonel.

Downtown headquarters will be established both in the courthouse and in Cole's studio at 2417 Broadway.

Cole said the campaign will open Oct. 1, with preliminary activities throughout September. Mrs. Doris Dean, chairman of the Chest's budget committee, recommended adoption of the $40,500 total after requests from five additional agencies were deleted.

Pres. James R. Hedge said the additional requests will be reviewed after the campaign results were known.

"It is our desire to limit the number of campaigns and to take care of every legitimate request," he explained.

The budget for 1950 included these items:

Boy Scouts $8500; Catholic Social Agencies $2250; Girl Scouts $9739; McKinley Parent-Teacher Preschool Clinic $430; Salvation Army $1250; San Mateo Preventorium $1200; Woodside Youth Activities $850; YMCA $9175; Council of Social Agencies $200; administration $2400; campaign expense $1500; allowance for uncollectable pledges $500; reserve $2500.

Samuel B. Marsa's Will Filed Here

A petition to probate the will of Samuel B. Marsa, former San Carlos construction company owner, was filed in superior court at Redwood City this week by his widow, Mrs. Esther Brooke Marsa, 250 Park Ave., San Carlos. Mr. Marsa, who died July 4 at the age of 37, left all of his estate to the widow, who also was named executrix. The will was dated Feb. 21, this year. Mr. Marsa was San Mateo County's second polio fatality victim of the year.

Included in the estate is the Brooke Construction Co., San Carlos, in which Mr. Marsa was a partner, with his wife. The couple has two children, Allison Brooke Marsa, 2, and Jon Dana Marsa, 8 months.

The directors heard a request from John Nolke for funds for establishment of a new family agency in San Mateo County, but did not include the item in the budget.

Cole named the following campaign committee chairmen:

Publicity, Otto Tallent; rally committee, Jack Thomas; advance gifts, Dwight O. Johnson; business district, Mitchell E. Webber; industrial employees, Wayne B. Reed and Charles Preston; residential district, Mrs. Gertrude Mahrhold, Kenneth T. Osman and Chester E. Wilson; Woodside district, L. J. Gamble, Brooke Halsey, resigned.

James Flood and E. D. Keil; Woodside Hills, Mrs. David D. Bohannon; churches, the Rev. Peter C. Boes; San Mateo County employees, W. Donald Thomas.

Redwood City employees, Ralph S. Dodge and Mrs. Martha Brand; Sequoia Union High School, Donald Bogie; Redwood City elementary schools, W. Earl Whitaker; fraternal organizations, Glenn Alexander; court-house reception, Mrs. Carl W. Brennan.

E. D. Keil of Woodside was appointed to the board of directors to fill the unexpired term of Woodside district, L. J. Gamble, Brooke Halsey, resigned.

MISS ORCHID — An aspiring young actress, Beverly M. Brennan, representing Burlingame, was named Miss Orchid for the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta which opened Wednesday. Beverly, a graduate of San Mateo Junior College who is now a playground supervisor for the San Mateo Recreation Dept. at Boreas and Central Park, has lived in Burlingame for the past nine years. She played the second lead in the junior college production of "Our Hearts Are Young and Gay," and wants to study dramatics at the Pasadena Playhouse.

Burlingame Girl Wins 'Miss Orchid' Title

Miss Beverly Brennan, 19-year-old Burlingame girl, was crowned as the "Miss Orchid" who is reigning with her court over the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta which opened Wednesday.

Miss Brennan, a 5-foot, 5-inch, hazel-eyed blonde, won out over six other contestants for the right to be crowned as the "queen of the fair" in 10 days of fair festivities.

The winner is employed in the city recreation department in San Mateo. She is a graduate of San Mateo Junior College.

Miss Mary Krenzer, Redwood City's representative in the "Miss Orchid" contest, was chosen to the orchid court as "Miss Gardenia." Other girls who will assist Miss Brennan in reigning over the fiesta include

Controller Announces County Tax Rate Of $1.81 Per $100

San Mateo County Controller Fred Beer has announced a tentative basic tax rate of $1.81 for the next fiscal year.

The reduction, Beer said, is 45 cents, or 20 per cent less than last year's basic rate of $2.26.

Peninsula Planning Meets Urged

Redwood City planning commissioners this week approved a San Mateo Planning Commission plan to hold regular meetings of all Peninsula planners. The meetings would provide a means of discussing common problems.

The Redwood City commission received a letter from the San Mateo city commission advocating such meetings and tentatively setting September as the first month during which such a session would be held.

Redwood City commissioners approved the idea and said they would attend.

Vacations prevented the commission from having a quorum present at this week's meeting and consequently all actions taken were unofficial. Present were Francis Britschgi, William Royer and Paul Jones. Absent on vacations were Joseph Territo, G. L. Debury and Emil Steinegger.

Those commissioners present: Kenneth Whitford to have a setback line on Redwood Ave. between St. Francis and Sierra Sts. reduced from 20 feet to 15 feet.

Held over an application by Dr. A. L. Weisler to have a lot on Edgewood Rd. near El Camino Real rezoned so that it may be used for a doctor's office. The lot is presently zoned for a single family residence. Commissioners said they wanted to determine whether there is any way they can legally permit the office without rezoning the lot for multiple dwelling use. The zoning ordinance states doctor's offices may be in multiple dwelling zones with a use permit but under no conditions in first residential zones.

Held over an application by the Gas-O-Mat Co. to have the rear of a lot on Oakwood Dr. near El Camino Real rezoned so that it may be used for a car washing rack. They told the firm's attorneys to file for a variance.

Held over a request by A. B. Shirmer for permission to install a greenhouse at 2200 El Camino Real. Shirmer was not present.

Tentatively approved an application by C. E. Sherman, 924 Harrison Ave., for permission to add to existing office and workshop facilities at his home.

Recommended that the city council give S. J. C. Magnani permission to extend a building at Whipple Ave. and El Camino Real over official plan lines. The lines were installed by the city to prevent land owners from building on land the government intends to condemn for a crossing structure.

Magnani offered to take down any new building at his expense when the city starts on the structure.

SC Woman Injured In Fall Over Papers

Mrs. W. G. Thompson, 69, 129 Beverly Dr., San Carlos sustained a fractured hip Saturday afternoon when she stumbled over a bundle of newspapers which had been thrown on the sidewalk on El Camino Real just north of San Carlos Ave.

Police said that Mrs. Thompson, who is the mother of Kenneth L. Thompson, former head of the safety services for the San Mateo County Red Cross, was taken to Community Hospital by county ambulance, and was operated on Sunday.

The accident occurred at 4:05 p.m.

Pedestrian Hit . . . In Parking Lot

Lo, the poor pedestrian . . . now he isn't even safe in a parking lot.

Saturday at 4:50 p.m. William Liotta, 42, 1443 Hudson St., was injured when he was pinned between his car and one driven by William C. West, 37, 3427 Hoover St. West was backing up at the time. The accident happened at the Purty Stores parking lot on Main St. near Middlefield Rd. Liotta was treated for minor injuries at the Redwood City Clinic.

Judges were John Broderick, Burlingame postmaster, Alleen Camory, of the San Mateo charm school staff, and William Libby, Redwood City.

"The seven candidates included some of the prettiest girls in San Mateo County and we had a difficult time arriving at a decision," Broderick reported.

The county board of supervisors is expected to adopt the tax rate at its next regular session on Aug. 16, but it has until Sept. 1 to pass it.

Beer said that the tentative rate as announced today may change, due to the hearings of the state board of equalization on the valuations of public utilities. However, any possible change is expected to make only minor adjustment in the rate.

The $1.81 basic rate applies actually only to Burlingame, San Mateo and Redwood City, for all other areas in the county must pay 6 cents more for the county free library.

The basic rate also does not affect the local city rates, or the district taxes, some of which are expected to rise this fiscal year.

Beer reported that the basic tax will be used to raise $3,538,178 on the county's secured rolls. Last year the amount to be raised by direct taxation was $3,948,221.

The reason for the decrease, Beer said, is that the amount of money to be raised was given by Beer as the action of the supervisors in trimming the departmental requests.

Also, last year the county had to provide funds for old age and blind aid, but with the passage of Proposition 4, the entire burden has been assumed by the state.

Other reasons given by Beer for the lower tax rate includes:

An overall 12 per cent increase in the assessment rolls, or the valuations of property.

Better balances in the county reserves at the end of the last fiscal year.

The decrease in the tax rate may not mean considerable saving to the taxpayer, for the increase in assessments in some areas may compensate partly for the drop. However, since less money is to be raised, the saving will be distributed equally.

YMCA Seeking Ping Pong Table

Do you have a ping pong table that you don't use any more?

If you have, there are boys and girls who would like to use it.

John McKinley, camp director at the YMCA camp at Jones Gulch, today said at least two ping pong tables are needed at the camp, and asked that anyone who has one he would like to give to the young people to contact YMCA headquarters. The YMCA camp will be in operation through the summer until school starts.

Escape Serious Injury As Car Rolls Over

John L. Rasmussen, 36, and Alice Rasmussen, 34, of 704 Fourth Ave., Redwood City, escaped serious injury Saturday night when their car rolled over several times following a collision at the intersection of Hetch-Hetchy Way and Carlton Ave., Menlo Park.

Mrs. Rasmussen was taken to the Palo Alto Hospital where she was treated for a shoulder injury and released.

Driver of the other car, Walter D. Chabode, 39, of 1257 Jervis Ave., Palo Alto, was cited by Menlo Park police for driving without an operator's license.

The employees' association, acting as the store's agent, demanded further evidence of the union's claim that it represented the employees.

The Woolworth firm, after discussions with the union officials, claimed the union did not represent the employees, and both parties agreed to a secret ballot to confirm or deny the union's claim, according to the complaint.

On Apr. 1, four days before the election was held, the union allegedly entered into an agreement whereby it promised not to try to represent the employees for 12 months if the election rejected the union as the employees' spokesman.

The union was rejected by the employees at the Apr. 5 election, the company claimed.

On July 27 the distribution of the leaflets started. In addition to asking potential patrons to stay away, the leaflets claimed that the employees could not afford to strike.

The leaflets, the company charged, contain "untruthful and misleading statements." The union's action, the complaint continued, is "dishonest, misleading and untruthful."

The store claimed that it has been damaged in the amount of $5000 by loss of business due to the passing out of leaflets, and added that each day the store continues to lose $300 more.

THERE THEY SIT—Two rows of cement trucks are parked inside the locked gates of the Redwood Materials Co. as the strike of AFL Building Material Drivers Local 216 moves through its second week. Because these trucks and others have been immobilized by the strike, millions of dollars worth of construction jobs have been slowed down or halted, builders report.

Woolworth Sues Union In Picketing

The F. W. Woolworth Co. today had filed suit in superior court to stop what it called a primary boycott and picketing by the Retail Clerks' Union Local 775, AFL, at the firm's San Mateo store.

The suit, in which the California Assn. of Employers joined the Woolworth firm, was filed in superior court here. Picketing is also being conducted in Redwood City.

Wednesday Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton issued an order for the union to show cause at 2 p.m. Monday why it should not be restrained, as sought by the company.

According to the complaint, the union has had leaflets printed and distributed by "large numbers of persons" in front of the San Mateo store, urging passers-by not to patronize the store.

The company, which also is seeking $5000 damages, charged that the union has placed into effect what amounts to a primary boycott and a picket line, an act which is claimed to be illegal and unlawful under the National Labor Relations Act.

The purpose of the leaflets, the company charged, also is contrary to state law "in that the purpose is not a legitimate or a bona fide labor problem, but an unauthorized and outlawed attempt to coerce and duress."

On Mar. 20, the complaint stated, the union notified Woolworth that it was the spokesman for the 13 persons working in the San Mateo store. The union wanted to enter into collective bargaining with the store officials, the complaint stated.

The employees' association, acting as the store's agent, demanded further evidence of the union's claim that it represented the employees.

RC Plant to Decide Union Affiliation

Union officials were beating the drums today in what some union agents called a "significant union shift" while others tagged the business mere "union-raiding activities."

Both sides were busy in an attempt to foster union control of the Redwood City Paraffine Companies, Inc., plant whose members are scheduled to vote on union affiliation today.

Approximately 145 workers in the plant will vote on whether they wish to become members of the AFL Teamsters General Warehousemen's Union Local 655. The election, which will be held between 7:30 and 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 and 4:30 p.m. at the Paraffine plant headquarters, is slated to settle a dispute over union control of the plant which has been brewing since early this year.

The election was requested in May by the AFL union which seeks to wrest jurisdiction from the CIO's International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union Local 6. The workers at the local plant are now represented by the CIO unit which holds a contract with the plant until June, 1950.

Joseph Dillon, secretary-treasurer of the AFL organization, early in April indicated there was a movement underway among units of the ILWU to break away from the CIO union and join the teamsters. Dillon claims workers were "dissatisfied" with CIO representation and had further charged that certain officials in the CIO unit were "Communists."

Dillon's charges have been refuted by Paul Heide, president of the CIO unit who declared Dillon's attempts at AFL control were "outright raids on the part of the AFL."

Dillon, however, won the first round in what may be the first gun in a Bay Area move to change union affiliation. "The AFL official filed with the National Labor Relations Board in an attempt to determine if there was a question of union representation at the plant, and if so what union should represent workers at Paraffine."

On July 27 the Washington headquarters of the NLRB, after receiving transcripts of hearings on the matter, ordered an election to be held at Paraffine.

Mrs. Susan Schroeder, San Francisco NLRB hearings officer who is the NLRB representative in the dickering between AFL, CIO and plant officials, said the balloting on the issue of union representation is set for Friday.

The only issue on the ballot will be which union shall represent the workers for the purposes of collective bargaining.

According to Mrs. Schroeder, the NLRB official did admit, however, that there was "considerable uncertainty" over union representation at the plant which precluded any statement on the NLRB's part until the company had "made up its mind."

Rudy Thuman, Paraffine's public relations counsel, said the plant management will continue to maintain a position of "strict neutrality."

He admitted that the CIO and the Paraffine officials had reached a "meeting of the minds" before the actual contract was signed but said the plant was a "law-abiding operation" and that any change in union lineup would have to be ordered by NLRB officials.

Union agents today were passing out mimeographed pamphlets at the Paraffine plant. CIO officials scoffed at Dillon's statement that the plant vote might be the spring board for a Bay-wide switch of union affiliation. The CIO said they could take little cognizance of what they termed "another one of the AFL's jurisdictional raids," and would continue to act on the terms of their contract with the Paraffine plant.

Sequoia Architects Offer to Do Job for 6%

Janssen and Daseking, architects for the projected Menlo Park High School, have officially offered the Sequoia High School Board of Trustees architectural services for the San Carlos-Belmont high school at a six per cent fee.

In a letter to the board the firm stated, "A six per cent fee is permissible according to the schedule of fees — percentage basis of the American Institute of Architects and the California Council of Architects."

A week earlier, Arthur Janssen, senior member of the firm, told the trustees that because other architects had been called in for consideration he probably would have to raise his fee to seven per cent in accordance with the ethics of the profession.

He told the board, however, that he would check with the board of architects to find out if the six per cent offer was permissible.

Janssen had told the board that the reduction would be possible because of duplication of work on the two schools. A reduction of one per cent could result in a saving of up to $15,000 for the district.

Early in July the board voted to call in other architects for consideration upon the request of Trustees Keith Cole and Kenneth Bowen. Three firms have asked for consideration, two at an eight per cent fee, and the third, Stone and Mulloy, architects for the Sequoia Dist. Hospital, at seven per cent.

Trustee Clifton Woodhams said he saw no reason for taking action on the architect selection at the meeting.

"The six per cent offer just about cinches it because it is a matter of dollars and cents," he declared, adding, however, that one trustee, Bowen, was absent from the meeting and there was no need for immediate action.

Harold Lindsay, speaking from the audience, declared that the board had an obligation to Janssen because he had been called in to do preliminary planning on the north end school.

"There has been a great deal of talk about architect's ethics. Shouldn't the board of trustees have ethics too?" he asked.

Board Pres. Charles Burgess said that board members had received inquiries from citizens asking that other architects be called in for consideration. He said that since other architects had been called in the board should look at their facilities before making a decision.

Cole declared that he was interested in seeing the north end school built within a year.

"When other architects were called in and eight per cent was the going figure, I felt it was time to stop the procedure," declared Trustee Merritt Hosmer. "In view of the two per cent reduction, I can't see any justification for going any further," he concluded.

Burgess said that after the board had inspected the facilities of the other three architectural firms, it would then consider all angles and make its decision.

Board Hikes Teacher Pay

Minor salary adjustments for four high school administrators and 25-cent-an-hour increases for night school teachers were voted Friday night by the Sequoia High School Board of Trustees.

The administrators asked for consideration of salary increases Monday night and Night School Principal Scovel S. Mayo asked that the trustees raise the salaries of the night school teachers.

Night school teaching rates were increased from $3.25 an hour to $3.50 an hour. Mayo had pointed out that the state average was $3.41 an hour and the Bay Area average, $3.65 an hour for night school teachers.

Board Pres. Charles Burgess said that the trustees would study the administrator salaries during the coming year and that the changes voted were merely a matter of "rounding off figures."

The salary of the dean of boys was raised from $6060 a year to $6100; that of the dean of girls from $5460 to $5500; night school principal, from $6060 to $6100; and head counselor, from $5000 to $5200.

Trustees last night postponed opening of bids on night lighting for the high school football field until Aug. 12 because the state division of architecture had asked for several changes in the specifications.

Supt. Clyde Ogden asked that the board consider installing dirt mound type bleachers similar to those at the Belmont Stadium at the football field, declaring that such an installation, using dirt from the Burdette property in Belmont would be cheaper than building new wooden bleachers. Trustees Keith Cole and Merritt Hosmer were named to a committee to inspect the Burdette property and study the recommendation.

The board also: Granted the school lamp contract to the Klose Electric Co. of San Carlos for the 1949-50 fiscal year.

Adopted a $36,597.54 budget for the school cafeteria for the fiscal year.

Postponed action on calling for bids on lighting for three classrooms until later in the year. Adjourned until tonight, when the board will open the football lighting bids and consider salary requests by the school's non-certified employees.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pattison from Claremont, Calif., are house guests of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cook of Cipriani Blvd., Belmont.

Council Studies Pinball Outlet Tax

An ordinance licensing "amusements" machines in Redwood City is to be presented to the city council in an almost final form in the near future.

Monday, at a study session in the city hall, council members went over the ordinance, which has been hanging fire for at least two years, and inserted license fee figures and fines.

Councilman agreed to charge $1 a year for each one-cent machine, $12 a year for each juke box, and $120 a year for each pinball or claw machine.

By terms of the proposed ordinance, the machines are to be for "amusement only" and they are not intended to be used for gambling.

Should police find a store paying off on pinball scores, however, they decided. Councilmen decided that the maximum fine for such a conviction should be $300 and 180 days in jail.

Monday night the council also went over proposed revisions to the existing fire zones.

Aged Aid Rolls Take Big Jump

Aged aid rolls in San Mateo County reached 2524 for June, 1949, compared with 1842 for December, 1948, and 1702 for July, 1948, California Taxpayers' Assn. reported today, analyzing results of the present tax state relief set-up.

Over the state as a whole, aged aid rolls skyrocketed to 245,294 for June, 1949, from the 198,301 for December, 1948, and the 189,415 for July, 1948. The present state administrative set-up went into effect Jan. 1, 1949.

Compared with national trends, aid to the aged in California is completely out of con-declared. Aged aid rolls in New York went from 111,568 in July, 1948, to 115,953 in April, 1949, the latest month for which nation-wide data are available.

In Pennsylvania, aged aid rolls went from 87,307 in July, a year ago, to 87,435 for April, 1949.

In California, they went from 189,415 in July, 1948, to 230,883 in April, 1949, and had shot to 245,294 in June, 1949.

All over the nation, the total number of people on aged aid compared with 2,581,556 for April, 1948, was 2,407,283 for July, 1948, 1949.

HAL BOYLE: Charleston's Making a Strong Comeback

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (P)—Junior, get papa the kneecap oil—the Charleston's coming back.

What's the Charleston? Why, son, the Charleston is the granddaddy of the jitterbug. Back in the mid-1920s, when everybody had to take shower baths because the tub was full of hand-made prohibition gin, you couldn't even deposit money in the bank unless you proved you could do the Charleston. It showed you were alive.

Do I mean it was a dance? Junior, no dance ever hit the country as hard as the Charleston. It was the dance. If a man wasn't willing to shimmy-shammy back and forth and then risk his right tarsal bone by throwing it over his left femur, he was strictly a left out of tune with his time.

Everybody did it. La Belle Joan Crawford started her fame as a dramatic actress as a result of a fancy prize-winning, hip Charleston movement. And Ginger Rogers was able to get her independence from Independence, Mo., because of the same swivel swing. Later some movie critic mentioned that both girls had sparkling eyes. This was a sad discovery.

It changed them from hoofers into actresses. And after that a gal covers up her legs, exposes her bosom like a half-shucked cornucopia, and begins emoting about socially significant themes she doesn't know from dime store jewelry.

But to get back to the Charleston... Charleston... a simple, primitive, agile movement based some distance below the bust.

"So many young people have come in wanting to dance the Charleston that I have had to teach it to all our instructors," said Charles Columbus, dance director of the Fred Astaire studios here.

Columbus says the dance originated among South Carolina Negroes. He can trace the sequence from the Charleston down through "the varsity drag, the shag, truckin', the lindy hop, the jitter-bugging." But it leaves him a little leg weary—when he demonstrates.

"There was nothing like the Charleston for popularity," Columbus said. "They danced it in the living rooms, the kitchens, the back porch, and standing up in rumble seats."

"It's popularity now is part of the current revival of old times. They show it in the movies with the music of that time—and people want to dance it again.

"But it is really a dance for people from 12 years old to 35. The people who used to enjoy it don't want it anymore, generally. They feel it is too undignified. Their bones are old."

Columbus thinks the American public is more dance crazy now than it has ever been. The pupils, he said, range from Eleanor Roosevelt, a longtime patron of the dance, down to gangsters.

Mrs. Roosevelt, incidentally, is strictly a conservative ballroom dancer. She hasn't come in to freshen up her Charleston—if she ever danced it.

RC Man Praised For Saving Pair
Hector Fernandez of 3530 Hoover St., Redwood City, was back home today, credited with saving the lives of two men during his vacation.
Fernandez and his family were camping at the Big Ben Ranger Station on the Yuba River near Truckee when he heard screaming. He found a woman on a bridge who screamed that her husband was down the river about 50 feet.
Fernandez swam to the man and pulled him to some rocks. The man exclaimed that there was another man "below." Fernandez dove into the water and found the husband of the woman on the bridge on the bottom in about nine feet of water. He pulled the man to shore and gave him artificial respiration for 30 minutes. After he was revived, the man was taken to a hospital in Nevada City and was given oxygen for 12 hours before he was released.
The two men—brothers—Fernandez learned, were wading and one stepped into a hole. The other grabbed for him. Neither man could swim. The man who was found on the bottom had suffered a cut on his head when he struck a rock.
